ORIGINAL POETRY.

METAPHORICAL SIMILES. One Shakspeare said that " Love's true course Smoothly doth never run." But madly leaps with murmurs hoarse, Until its race is done. This love, the germ of jealous fears, Gives birth to many a sigh; Just as an onion brings the tears, Into the pealer's eye.

"But all 's in use," another said, And prov'd it by the eels; Quoth he, so often they 've been flayed, Not one the process feels !

So lovyers when they first began, Were seen with swimming eyes; And damsels for some whisker'd man, Would, lisping, heave their sighs.

But love of late has grown so stale, That tears are out of fashion; And sweetest vows are known to fail To move the melting passion.

AVILL.

Metaphysical Reasoning .-- Nothing was more common with Gall, than his habit of ridiculing metaphysics and metaphysicians; because he knew that his system of philosophy would never bear the scrutiny of a strict metaphysical analysis. It is true, that there is nothing more absurd than many of these finely spun and fanciful systems of metaphysics, such as the Transcendental Philosophy. Yes the absurdity of such a system is no argument against metaphysical reasoning. It is the ground-work, upon which Transcendentalism is based which renders it absurd. The reasoning which is used to support it, is like all other kinds of reasoning. All abstract reasoning is metaphysical; -and to condemn metaphysical reasoning in general terms, is equivalent to the condemnation of all kinds of abstract reasoning. In truth, any kind of reasoning is good which convinces. If false reasoning convinces the fault is in the mind of the person who is convinced by any kind, but its power of convincing. It may be replied that it must be based upon fact, and that it must be logical and syllogistical; yet the only proof that it is logical and syllegistical, is, its power of influencing the mind. Good reasoning may be based upon incorrect premises-in other words, it may be based upon falsehood instead of fact:

For the Boston Morning Post. Mr Editor-I chance to be acquainted with a fair member of a family of fallen fortune, whose uniform, everlasting complaint is-"I'm dreadfully tired!"-"Oh, dear! I'm so tired," &c. Propose a walk, attendance of some lecture, or what you will, the never-varying plea of evasion is-" I'm tired." In a humorous mood, this morning, the subjoined pasquinade was written upon the subject. It has caused several of my friends to laugh with so much apparent gout, that I am induced to transcribe it for your columns. If it receive a place in your paper, I but this circumstance does not prove the reasoning incorrect, which is thus based upon error. The mischief, in this case, springs wholly from the falsehood upon which the argumentation is based.

Yours, respectfully,

EPITAPH

Upon a female who was eternally TIRED. Here rests a poor woman, who always was tired; For she lived in a house where "help" was not hired. Her last words were—"Friends, fare ye well! I am going To a place where there's nothing of washing or sewing. Then weep not my friends, when death shall us sever, For I'll have a nice time in doing nothing forever! Oh! every thing there is exact to my wishes. Since, where they do n't eat, here's no wiping of dishes. The Courts with sweet anthems are constantly ringing, But having no voice, I shall get clear of singing." She folded her arms, with her latest endeavor,

And whisper'd-"Sweet nothing! Oh nothing forever!"

MOSTON MORNING POST.

MONDAY, APRIL 17, 1837.

The Deposite Banks and the Democracy .- It is well known to the public that the administration of Gen. Jackson, selected the State Banks, as depositories of the public money; to demonstrate that the fiscal affairs of the government could be well managed, without the intervention of the Bank of the United States; and to show that with the aid of the deposites, the domestic exchanges of the country could be as well conducted by those State Banks as by the Bank of the United States. The opposition assumed the opposite ground, and have essayed every means to cripple the deposite Banks, to deprive them of the power to effect necessary commercial exchanges, and to break up the system, preparatory to establishing Mr Biddle's Bank anew.

When this system should have been broken up, it was believed that a re-charter of Mr Biddle's Bank would necessarily follow. To this point have all the efforts of the Bankites been directed, and to carry this point, too, have all the false friends of the Administration been co-operating with the Whigs.

The Boston Advocate, while professing friendship for the Administration, has been zealous in its abuse of the Deposite Banks and those connected with them.

It has a worthy co-laborer in this work of double dealing, in the Boston Reformer. The editor of the Reforms er at the recent choice of the County Committee, was busy aiding Mr Hallett, and his adherents. To show what sort of democrats the Reformer men and the Advocate men are, we copy the following from the Boston Reformer of April the 7th:--" Perhaps from their pretended friends are the people in the greatest danger; the arts of their en mies are better seen through and guarded against. But it is from their treacherous friends they have most to fear. Many papers are disguised under the name of Democracy, having the name of the democratic presidents at their heads, as false colors to deceive the enemy, they sail with full cargoes of whiggery stowed in their holds, and are ever upon the look out to take advantage of want of vigilance in the people, to smuggle their contraband wares ashore. Such are the Bank democrats; perpetual charter democrats; state bonus democrats; office seeking democrats; loaves and fishes democrats, gaw haw democrats, &c &c et id genue onne. Suppose we mention the WASHINGTON GLOBE, RICHMOND INQUIRER, NEW YORK TIMES, ALBANY ARGUS, BOSTON POST, as specimens-by the by fair, too, of the genus."

Very truly the democrats are in the greatest danger from their pretended friends," such as the Reformer and Advocate, if they follow their lead. But when these pretended friends denounce the long tried champions of the people's cause, we think few democrats will follow them.

From the Hampden Whig.

Resolved,-That the whole and every part of the Commonwealth are of the nearest interest to every member of the democratic party; that the appointments on the seaboard, having reference to the commerce of the whole State, are of interest to the whole State; that, therefore, it is right and proper for any legislative meeting, for the whole, or fer any portion of the democratic members of the Legislature, or for a convention, to express opinions on that subject; and that the democratic members of this Legislature will always assert, and with due caution will on all proper sccasions, exercise this right.

The above is one of the resolutions passed at the late Legislative convention of the democratic members. To our mind it expresses the true doctrine of the democratic party. The field of competition for office and honor is open to all, and all have an undoubted right to recommend any individual, and to express their views and wishes when and where they choose. In all offices affecting the interests of the Commonwealth, every man has a right to present his candidate and express his wishes, it matters not whether he legislates in the capitol of Massachusetts or ploughs the mountains in Berkshire, he is entitled to his opinion, he is at perfect liberty to express it, and it should go for what it is worth. We have no belief in trammelling public sentiment. It should always be allowed a full expression. It matters not whether men express their views individually or collectively, whether by private letters or public resolutions, it is individual opinion after all. If one man's recommendation goes further than anothers,' it is his good fortune, and not a matter about which others ought to complain. What we mean to assert is, that in all offices affecting the interests of the commonwealth, there is no such thing as exclusive claims, or exclusive rights of opinion and expression, but that every individual is equally free in these respects.

This is precisely our view. It is right that every man in the state should express his opinion, if he choose, in relation to appointments on the sea board, and in the interior, too, of general interest to the whole state. Nobody, that we know of, ever denied this right to the members of the legislature. The difficulty was, that certain members of the legislature, some of whom, wishing for office, undertook in their capacity of Representatives to nominate a Collector of Boston, for the President of the United States, and at the same time, to deny the democracy of Suffolk, who feel some little interest in the matter, any voice or influence in the question. These members of the legislature created what they called a political organization of the State, an exercise of power not delegated to them; they have appointed for the democrats of Suffolk, a State Committee man, without allowing Soffolk any voice in the matter; and the President was requested to take the statements and recommendations of the State Committee as the expression of the wishes of the whole party! It was against the injustice of this course that the Suffolk democrats protested, and we are sure that the Editor of the Hampden Whig would be the last man in the state to justify such usurpation on the one hand, and disfranchicement on the other. His democracy is of a different stamp.

We are glad to see the following in the Salem Advertiser. That paper looks well after the public interests, and is always prompt in its vindication of democratic principles. We hope that its suggestions will receive the attention of the general government:--Democratic Proscription .- Soon after the fall elec-Government office holders, and, from available data, underrook to declare that whig stories representing that the political friends of the Administration enjoyed all the official patronage of Government, was a huge hoax. Democracy has borne the false clamor of the whigs about pro-criation, long enough. It is time that something were done to render their charges true. If the new brown of the new Administration is so plied as to sween clean, it will aid the cause of right and justice. The de morrary of Massachusetts expects this measure, and reasonable expects it. If a whig President had been elected, every 'e noc atic office-holder in the country would have " walked the plank " ore this. Messrs Samuel Crocker, Charles Richmond, Charles, Enoch and Increase Robinson, and Horatio Leonard, doing business at Tainton, under the firms of Crocker & Richmond and Horatio Leonard, have made a general assignment of all their proporty, of every description, without reservation, for the benefit of all their creditors, without preference or priority. The assigness have male an estimate of all their property, and all their liabilities, and it appears from their representation, that after they have paid all their debts there will remain a clear surplus of six bundred thousand dollars.

The tune changed .- Mr Biddle finding that his bonds, payable in London a year hence, don't go very well, is now issuing notes on time, payable at home.

He takes drafts of the merchants on Boston, New York, and Baltimore, at one per cent exchange, and gives the blue notes (his new emission is on blue paper, emblematical of the blue light principles,) of his bank, payable thirty days after the drafts become lue, at par. This gives him the use of the merchants' funds for thirty days. It was this like business that gave capital to the Josephs', and ruined them and the merchant's who took their paper. We caution the merchants to avoid the paper of this land shark, as they would a pestilence. It is nothing but blue ruin.

The " Pirate's own Book " is the title of a volume just published by Mr Thos. Groom of this city, giving a history of the most remarkable pirates and piracies known to the world. The volume is well printed, embellished with a large number of very good engravings, and appears to be written with care, and in an unexceptionable style of composition. Upon the moral tendency of such publications there is a wide difference of opinion-some contend that they operate as a warning against the crimes they relate, and others that they inculcate in daring and reckless minds a fatal ambition to excel in wickedness, rather than virtue; but upon this point we shall not presume to decide.

The land to be sold, will omprise, an ong others, the following, viz: In Toledo—Several entire Blocks, (containing in all, when ubdivided, from 300 to 500 lots); one 5 and one ten acre lot, within the city limits; and three or four valuable improved farms contiguous to the town.

A valuable stone quarry and water power upon the Ottowa river, 10 miles west of Toledo, embricing the point where the Toledo and Michigan-City Railroud will probably cross—containing 80 acres of land.

489 acres of the finest quality of farming lands, adjoining the village of Sylvania, 40 miles from Toledo. The soil is dry, and well adapted to gardening or ornamental farming.

An undivided interest in the thriving village of Palmyra, situated upon the river Raisin, 26 miles northwest of Toledo, embracing an excellent water power, which is well improved. The Eric and Kalamazoo Railroad, which is now in full operation, crosses at this point; and the Palmyra and Jack onburgh Railroad, a considerable portion of which is already under contract, and rapidly progressing in its construction, terminates in the heart of the village. It contains $11 acres of land, and the town is rapidly increasing in population and 2500 acres of choice farming lands, well timbered lying 2500 acres of choice tarming lands, well timbered lying from one and a half to four miles from the village of Bliss field, on the river Raisin, and 2° miles from Toledo, where there is a good water power, and mills now in operation There lands are also within a short distance of the Railroad. From 8,000 to 10,000 acres of choice tarming lands, situated from 10 to 25 miles from Toledo upon the line of the Tsledo and Michigan city radroad; and embracing all the different varieties of timbered, opening, and gravice lands.

Agency House, and a large Indian village were formerly situated. It embraces 424 acres of land.

An undivided interest in the valuable town site at the outlet of Lake Koshkenong, the head of navigation for the larger class of Steamboats upon Rock river. This is a spiendid location; and is, without doubt, the most important and commanding position for an interior town, within the Territory of Wisconsin. It is now the site of a large Indian village, and will, in a few years become one of the rock rocket. and will, in a few years become one of the most populous ; bu-tling cities west of Lake Michigan. It contains about 900

From 3000 to 4000 acres of the first quality of farming lands, lying from one and a half to three miles from Madson, the seat of government. From 10,000 to 20,000 acres of land lying from 3 to 10 miles from So,000 to 20,000 acres of land typing from a to commerce from Madison; the principal part of which, as well as the last mentioned body of land, horder upon the Four Lakes, and comprises large proportion of the valuable-prairie and timber lands by which those beautiful sheets of water are surrounded. They afford some of the most delightful situations for re-

The above comprise but a limited proportion of the valuable property which will be offered at these sales. It is confidently believed that they will embrace a larger amount of desirable property and afford a better opportunity for profitable investment to eastern capitalists, than has ever been offered at any similar sale. The terms will be 25 per cent. down, and the balance in three equal annual payments. Should any deviation be made from these terms, in any of the property offered, such devia tion will be announced and distinctly specified before the The undersigned reserve to themselves the privilege of dispoint of any property they intend to offer at private sale, previous to, or upon any of the days of sale.

Maps and diagrams of the property offered, together with full and accurate descriptions thereof, will be prepared and ready for inspection, at the offices of the subscribers, from and after the first day of May next.

Washington street, Bos on.

"To administer to a mind diseased, pluck from the Memory arooted Sorrow,

"Raze out the written troubles of the Brain, and with some sweet oblivious Antidote,

"Cleanse the foul Bosom of that perilous stuff which weighs upon the Heart."

Dr. LOVEMAN'S Balm of Gilead is universally acknewledged to be peculiarly efficacious in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the bands or limbs, shortness of breath, and consumptive babits. It thiss the blood, eases the most violent pain in the head and stowach, and promotes genile perspiration. By the Medical Faculty this medicine is much admired being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fibres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a good digestion requires.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead is recommended to the weak, the relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restorative; and considered as a cordial, is essential to the comfort of ladies of fashion, being a preventive against cold, when taken before going out to partics, balls, routs or the play. It will enliven the spirits and invigorate the mind and body, and if taken after fatigue, it will with a few hours sleep, take away all languor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attentice.

away all languor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attended with the following symptoms, namely—a great straitness of the breast, with difficulty of breathing—violent palpitations of the heart, sudden flasces of heat in various parts of the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was poured on them—flying pains in the arms and limbs, back and belly, resembling those occasioned by the grave!—the pulse very variable, sometimes uncommonly slow, at other times very quick—yawning, the hiccough, frequent sighing, and a sense of suffication, as from a ball or lump in the throat—alternate fits of crying and convulsive langhing—the sleep unsound, and seldom refreshing, and the patient often troubled with horrid dreams. Much has been said by interested individuals against Medicines that are advertised, but there is a with horrid dreams. Much has been said by interested individuals against Medicines that are advertised, but there is a very important observation to be made respecting Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead, that unless its operation was gentle's afe and efficacious, it could not have obtained the unexampled demand it has acquired.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

"Without Health we can enjoy no Fortune;
Honors, Riches, and all other advontages are useless."

HIPPOCRATES.

Without Health we can enjoy no Fortune;
Honors, Riches, and all other advontages are useless."
Hippocrates.
This Cordial has been uncommonly successful with young people who have the appearance and air of old age, who are pale, effeminate, benumbed, stupid, and even imbecile; whose bodies are become bent, whose legs are no longer able to carry them, who have an utter distaste for every thing, and are totally incapacitated. Where the stomach is frequently disordered, the body is weakened; paleness, hodily decay and emaciation succeed, and the eyes sink into the head. The virtues of Dr Loveman's Balm of Gileadare demonstrated, in oradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nervous debility, and nothing has tended so much to establish the fame of this medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their roots so deep in the constitution, and are so fafal to the happiness of mankind.

Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead has risen in repute with every trial of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its virtues, not having perused the Guide to Heslth, may be induced to ask what is the Balm of Gilead good for? What complaint doth it cure?—To answer this it will be necessary to "Hold the Mirror up to Nature."

Let those who are afflicted in the following manner reflect on the cause that produced such havoc upon the "wholesome appetites and powers of life."—disordered stomach, dry cough, weakness in the voice hoarseness, shortness of breath upon the least exercise, and relaxation of the whole system. Those afflicted with paleness, languor of the eyes, weakness of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linnaus's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "anothing is to be dreaded so much as premature excess." The foundation of a happy old age is a good constitution in youth; temperance and moderation at that age are passports to happy grey hairs.

For such as have violated these precypts, then, this healing bahm is suitable—complaints inclu

To The Public.—Anacreon, the prince of acten poets, the lover and the eulogist of the ladies, never forgot, in his odes, to mentiod of the teeth of pearl.

Ovid never fer one moment lost sight of the "balmy breath" of his ladies, and his earnest recommendation to both sexes was ever to "keep your teeth elean, and your breathsweet." The ancients had the means of doing so. Anacreon's beauties were as noted for their flowing zones and their eyes of fire, as for their teeth of pearl and their breath of balm.

Ovid, who has taught us how to love and be loved, laid more stress upon the teeth and breath, than any other point—and verily these precepts are worthy of our practice.

How many matches have been broken off—how many amantes separated—how much misery caused by the single fault of a bad breath.
